A gender-reveal party is an event or celebration had during pregnancy.

The primary goal of this event is the eponymous "reveal" of the baby's sex to the expecting parents, family, and friends.

The best time to plan a gender reveal would be anytime after 18-20 weeks.

Documenting these events is a must.

As the parents you are too anxious to worry about capturing your own photos so this is where we come in.

Upon hire, I will work closely with the parents or person coordinating the event.

We want to make sure that you only worry about the big reveal and nothing else.

I will capture the event whether it be a quick 30-60 minute session or an event that requires more time.

My Pricing includes Digital Photos of the event.

Parents reactions are priceless and although we can capture those with photos sometimes.

It is such an exciting moment for the parents to be that they will cherish this forever.
